

How to raise over £4000 in sponsorship

Fundraising

When faced with a seemingly huge target it is easy to become overwhelmed and concerned about hitting the target. The secret to successful fundraising is to start early, make plans and consider the target in smaller, more manageable chunks.

Planning fun events your friends, family and colleagues can get involved in is one of the best ways to reach your fundraising target quickly and effectively rather than simply asking for sponsorship.

You can see from the spread sheet below how easy it is to raise a significant amount of money just through a few simple events.
